Summer Splash

As temperatures in the city continue to rise, you may be looking for fun ways to cool down in the summer heat. From local waterparks to free kayaking, this edition of NYC Lifestyle is all about staying cool while enjoying the outdoors.

Yacht Rentals | Manhattan

Sailo might just be one of the coolest companies around. Their portal features NYC boat and yacht rentals for all budgets, most of which include a captain or crew! If you're looking to create new memories with family or friends, this is a fantastic choice.

Splish Splash Waterpark

When's the last time you went to a water park? If it's been too long to recall, it's time to visit Splish Splash on Long Island! Located in Calverton, the park features two wave pools, a lazy river, waterslides, and other family-friendly rides.

Free Kayaking | TriBeCa

Head down to Tribeca and take advantage of the city's most popular free kayaking program! Every weekend Pier 26 offers free kayaking for all ages and all skill sets, no reservations required. The last boat hits the water at 4:30 p.m.

Watermark Pier 15 | Seaport

Wine and dine along the East River at Watermark Pier 15, a stunning waterfront restaurant in Manhattan's Seaport District with panoramic views of the Brooklyn Bridge. Check their calendar for live music, special events, cabana rentals, and more!

Summer Splash

The New York Aquarium | Coney Island

The New York Aquarium is a magical place to discover the sea and get up-close to aquatic animals. Located on the historic Coney Island boardwalk, the aquarium features a large shark tank, outdoor habitats for seals and penguins, an Aquatheater, and a conservation hall with rare and endangered species.

Rye Playland | Westchester

With views of the Long Island Sound, Rye Playland has brought millions of people together for family fun since 1928. There are more than 50 attractions, from thrill rides like the Dragonator, to less intense activities like mini golf.

Margaritaville Resort | Times Square

The rooftop at Jimmy Buffet's Margaritaville Resort brings a slice of island paradise to Midtown Manhattan. You can rent a private shaded cabana with friends or grab a lounge chair by the pool deck. With multiple bars and paradise-themed restaurants, this resort is a true beach escape.

Splash Pad | Prospect Park

Grab the whole family and head to The Splash Pad at Prospect Park, one of the city's largest water play areas. There are 47 spray jets spread across 16,000 square feet, and the best part is that it's all free! The area will be open to children until September.
