

NYC Lifestyle

Oct. 14, 2023 to Oct. 28, 2023

It's spooky season!

The streets will soon be filled with ghosts and ghouls as we approach Halloween. From theatrical performances and themed parties, to Día de los Muertos celebrations and mad scientist cocktail classes, New York City has a plethora of festivities to choose from!

Midtown East Trick or Treat

If you're looking to take the kids trick or treating, the East Midtown Partnership will host their eighth-annual Trick or Treat family walk. Open to families with children 12 and under, the route begins on Third Avenue and 56th Street and visits participating small businesses in the area!

The Drunken Laboratory Cocktail Experience

Grab a friend and head over to The Drunken Laboratory for a "scientific" cocktail experience! Mix different potions and beverages in lab coats as you compete in games and challenges where you can win prizes and free shots! Get your tickets here to secure your spot.

Nightmare Dollhouse

This year is the premiere of Nightmare Dollhouse, a roadside haunted attraction on the Lower East Side that is sure to be a terrifying experience. Created by renowned theatrical horror group Psycho Clan, the haunted dollhouse will have secrets and chilling performances inside.

Halloween Party at Elsie Rooftop

For an all-around good time, check out this Halloween party at Elsie Rooftop near Bryant Park. Expect gorgeous skyline views, a two-hour open bar, and plenty of Halloween decorations. Don't forget to turn a look with your best costume!

NYC Lifestyle

Oct. 14, 2023 to Oct. 28, 2023

It's spooky season!

Village Halloween Parade 2023

This Halloween, make your way downtown for the 50th annual Greenwich Village Halloween Parade, the largest Halloween parade in the world! From 7:00 p.m. to 10:30 p.m., join dancers, performers, and thousands of NYC locals all dressed in their best costumes. If you'd like to march, don't forget to grab a ticket!

Día de los Muertos at the Flatiron

On October 31st, join Taco Mix at Industry City to celebrate Día de los Muertos (Day of the Dead). Festivities include a live mariachi band, complimentary face painting, and authentic Mexican food. Visitors will have access to other restaurants inside the building, as well as the Industry City lawn.

Día de los Muertos Theater Show

If you're into Broadway, check out this Día de los Muertos theater performance hosted by Calpulli Mexican Dance Company. The show runs from October 28 to November 5 at the Claire Shulman Theater in Queens with food, beverages, and Mexican face painting offered during the pre-show!

Día de los Muertos: Afterlife Fiesta

Latin culture museum El Museo Del Barrio is hosting a Día de los Muertos fundraising party on October 24. The museum will have live bands, plenty of space to dance, cocktails, and beverages to celebrate Mexican heritage.